Home fires of the heart...By WoodlandThymeThis is a book that I hug to my heart in December, and any other time of the year when I need a feeling of warmth, family, and love. One simply has to look past some of the "dated" costumes to see the warmth of a country Christmas home filled with goodness, caring, and joy. The pictorial quilts alone, scattered throughout the book and on the cover, are utterly charming (I mean, did someone stitch all of these delightful pieces just for this book?)...they put me in the mood for building a blaze in the fireplace and baking gingerbread. There are countless patterns for lovely, handmade gifts, ranging in skill levels, including Christmas quilts, knit and sewn dolls, and wooden toys, and recipes with photos for turkeys, pies, cookies, and more, but mostly I treasure this book for its wonderful mood of Home.It is also very pretty and festive, with the glossy cover pictorial quilt wrapping around to the back of the book. I would definitely leave it on the coffee table during the holidays, not if having over friends who have chronological snobbery (either addicted to modernity or antiquity), but for Christmas tea with those who craft, cook, love home or Christmas, or simply think outside the box. 11 of 11 people found the following review helpful. Broad Spectrum Christmas Celebration By Tell Me A Story This is a very comprehensive book. It provides the ability to express your creativity in a variety of ways (with instructions, patterns and pictures). The sections are: Christmas - A Celebration of American Crafts, which includes doll and toy making with all the data needed; Beloved Christmas Traditions - more crafts and home decorations; Christmas Magic From Every day things which has items to make your house a themed display, along with festive holiday clothing which is simple to make; Christmas Joys for Children - stockings and baby toys too (which has a specific section which focuses on some ideas for a baby's First Christmas); Old-Country Customs which has food dishes and desserts. Throughout the book there are different themed Christmas decorations - some quite easy to make. The book is comprehensive in its offering of various options for different skill types there are plenty of easy handicrafts but also those geared to Knitting, Crocheting, Embroidery, and Needlepoints. The time to create some of these might be from 20 minutes to several hours with the exception of the quilt (which if you have a sewing machine wouldn't take more than 5-7 hours). What nice heirlooms to pass down to the next generation.
